LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Highway Commission Wednesday awarded $4,654,214 worth of contracts, programmed several new projects and took under advisement requests for additional highway improvements.

Among possible future projects taken under advisement was a request for a highway overpass or underpass across U.S. Highway 65 at the Dollarway School near Pine Bluff to provide a crossing for school children.

Highway engineers recommended a narrow overpass, which they estimated would cost $15,000.

Requests presented by eight delegations appearing before the commission totaled $2,895,000.

The commission programmed $835,000 for work on Highway 29, recently designated as a primary highway, between Hope and the Lafayette County line.

F. R. Oliver, highway director, said $369,500 had initially been allocated for the work but said the change in designation required higher design standards in order for the project to be eligible for federal aid funds.

A number of smaller projects were programmed in 16 other counties.

Largest of the 12 contracts let Wednesday was for 5.7 miles of construction in Highway 40 from the Oklahoma state line to the junction of Interstate Highway 55 in Crawford County. The contract went to E. E. Barber, Inc., of Fort Smith on a bid of $1,792,317.

The commission withdrew a project for the widening of U.S. Highway 71 through Fayetteville and said it would be readvertised later.

A combined bid which was the apparent low for six miles of surfacing and two bridges in White County was rejected because, the commission said, it did not meet regulations.

The contract was awarded to the second low bidder, S. M. Dixon Construction Co. of Warren, on an offer of $263,437. The rejected bid, $276,347, was submitted by W. C. Burrow Co. of Malvern and Schmeckelbecker Brothers of Sweet Home.

In another action, the commission authorized the purchase of up to $1 million worth of shop equipment and road machinery through June 30, 1962.

CPA Examination Passed by Eight

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Eight men passed the Certified Public Accountant examinations given last May, Howard P. Pratt, president of the Arkansas Board of Accountancy, said Wednesday.

Passing the tests were John Michael Allen of Little Rock; Ronald W. Fogle of Forrest City; Robert Wait Worley, Robert Champe Grubbs Jr. and Clarence Edward Parks, all of El Dorado; James Gilbert Sandlin and Paul Davis Sider, both of Fort Smith, and Robert D. Simpson of Russellville.

Farm Bureau Board Meets Tues. Night

The Hempstead County Farm Bureau board of directors will meet at the Diamond Cafe on Tuesday night, August 8, at 7:30 o'clock. In making the announcement, Warren Butler, president of the farm organization, extended an invitation to any Farm Bureau member and asked that directors bring their wives.

Mr. Butler has arranged for Randolph Webb, president of the Howard County Farm Bureau, to speak to the group. Mr. Webb will speak on government controls.

Final plans for the annual Farm Bureau barbecue will be made at the meeting, new committees appointed, and other routine business acted upon at the meeting.

Hilderbrand Is Back in Ozark Hills

DOVER (AP)—Joe Hilderbrand is back in the hills, running from the law again, but the girl who helped make him a near legend says she won't join him this time.

"I don't want to get tangled up with him no more," Frances Standridge, 18, told an interviewer Wednesday. "I done had my part of him. One time was enough for anybody to learn."

Hilderbrand, 24, and Frances eluded State Police for more than a month before they were captured at a stakeout last Oct. 12. Joe escaped Monday night from the State Hospital where he had been treated for a mental "illness."

Frances, who received suspended sentences on a number of charges connected with the flight, has been living with her brother, Leon Standridge, since Joe went back to jail.

Frances said she expects Joe to seek her out and ask her to go back into the hills with him. "But like I told the cops, I don't have no use for him," she said.

Joe, sentenced to three years in prison for the 1959 robbery of a tourist couple, got a furlough to visit his ailing father late that year and did not return to prison.

He skipped around, always just ahead of police, for almost a year before Frances elected to join him last September.

The girl's action focused national attention on the fugitive and State Police launched an intensive manhunt for the couple.

The chase carried through half a dozen counties in the rugged Ozark Mountains as officers tracked the two over a trail of stolen cars and burglarized rural groceries.

Frances' mother, Mrs. Frances Standridge, was uncompromising in her attitude toward Hilderbrand. "For what he done to us, I'd smoke him down," she said. "I've got an automatic .22 rifle and I haven't got more than enough sense to do it."

Hilderbrand's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lytle Hilderbrand, and the Standridges live only a few hundred yards apart in an isolated area in north Pope County. The families haven't been on good terms since the big chase.

State police have investigators watching the area around Hilderbrand's home, but they don't run a large manhunt until they get a clue to his whereabouts. No one is positive he is in the area but Frances said he probably is.

"And he'll be harder to catch than before," she said. "He knows all the routes."

J. C. Porterfield, 81, of Spring Hill Dies Wednesday

Joe C. Porterfield, 81, a lifelong resident of Hempstead county, died yesterday in a local hospital. He lived at Spring Hill. He was a retired merchant and farmer and a member of the Baptist Church.

Survivors include Mrs. Porterfield, a son, Joe C. Porterfield of Texarkana; two daughters, Mrs. Hugh Garner of Hope and Mrs. Audrey McDowell of Texarkana.

Services were to be held at Spring Hill Baptist Church at 2:30 p. m. Thursday with the Rev. Carlton Roberts officiating. Burial was to be in Macedonia Cemetery near Patmos by Oakcrest Mortuary.

Young Girl Dies of Injuries

DOVER, Ark. (AP)—A three-year-old girl was killed and her parents and sister injured when their car and a truck collided at a state Highway 7 junction near here Wednesday.

Julia Irene Stacy of Dover was dead on arrival at a clinic here. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stacy, and her sister, Rosa Ann, 11, were released after treatment of minor injuries. Homer Martin of Russellville, the truck driver, was not injured.

State Police quoted Stacy, 40, as saying the brakes on his car failed.

Selective Service Act Violation

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Eugene Graham, 24, was charged with violation of the Selective Service Act March 3, 1961, after he failed five times to report for induction at the West Memphis draft board.

U.S. District Judge J. Smith Henley Wednesday signed an order authorizing the charge to be withdrawn after the Federal Bureau of Investigation learned Graham died more than a year ago after he was stabbed outside a tavern in Chicago.

52 Paroles Are Granted

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Pardon and Parole board Wednesday granted 52 paroles and recommended executive clemency for five other convicts.

Among those paroled were two Negroes convicted of second degree murder. One was Luther Ray White, sentenced to 12 years from Union County in 1957, and the other was Clara Adams, sentenced in 1954 to 10 years from Lincoln County.

Shumaker Land Can Be Taxed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Land formerly occupied by the Shumaker Ordnance Depot near Camden may be taxed in 1962, the attorney general's office said today.

Calthoun County Clerk Ross Watson had asked the attorney general when collection of taxes should start on the land sold by the government recently. The opinion said the land was bought this year and would be subject to assessment and taxation for the year 1962.

Watson said the land in question was decided to Brown Engineering Corp. by the government as of July 19.

Scooter and Truck Hit, Youth Hurt

At Third and Hervey Sts. yesterday a motor scooter ridden by Larry Johnson crashed into the side of a truck driven by J. L. Almond of Rossen Rt. 3.

The youth was painfully but not critically injured. He sustained a fractured arm, a severe blow on the head, and many cuts and bruises.

According to City Officer Don Hollis the vehicles met about the middle of the intersection. He said the rear wheel of the truck ran over the youth's arm. The scooter was heavily damaged.

All Around Town

By The Star Staff

On today's sports page is a story by Jim Montgomery, of the San Diego Evening Tribune, about baseball in Hope back in the 1920s.

... we have been planning a special article about the late Roy Hammons for some time but the tribute by Jim just about covers everything and expresses how we feel about the coach after many years of friendship. Jim is a native of Hope, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Montgomery of 630 S. Hervey. He began his newspaper career on the old Star of Hope and has worked on newspapers both large and small. He has been with the San Diego newspaper for a dozen or more years. As the article is a tribute to Mr. Hammons, Jim left out the baseball era of the late 1920s in which the Cook brothers, the Scheuley and Hatfield families played, as well as these Henderson-Brown greats such as Eugene (Bo) Sherman and Carl Dabymple. Although he relies solely on his memory, Jim was putting at the time. His story is well worth reading.

Some 400 junior and senior high students will end sessions of the three-weeks Dixie Music Camp at Monticello on August 12.

Attending from Hope are: Mary Beth Allen, Roy Allison, Jimmy Barentine, Ginger Bowen, David Bruce, Chalm, Ronnie Ralph, Pernaby, Tommy Hollis, Lance Jones, Joe Kacey, Phil McLarty, Betty Ratliff, Patricia Rogers, Richard Stone, JoAnn Turnage, Al Weisenberger, Philip Lee Dermott, $126,000 for new arm-

White, and Larry Vermer. Will City firemen were called to the jams.

A Shreveport band will play at Hope Youth Center Saturday night, Aug. 5, from 8:45 to 11:45. Everyone is invited.

Nikita Thinks Berlin Issue Can Be Settled

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Khrushchev told Italian Premier Amintore Fanfani Wednesday night that he is still determined to sign a peace treaty with Communist East Germany but is ready to give "whatever guarantee is wanted" for West Berlin.

Italian newsmen accompanying Fanfani reported Khrushchev told the visiting premier:

"It is not an obstacle that the two sections of Berlin live in different social regimes. If (West) Berlin people have chosen the capitalist regime, well, let them keep it."

Khrushchev was quoted as saying the Soviet signing of a peace treaty with East Germany "would not mean war—the Americans and their allies say so because they want war."

In a two-hour lecture on foreign affairs to the Italian leader, Khrushchev reportedly went on: "We do not have any threatening intention. If there is a possibility to resume talks, we must exploit it entirely."

But Khrushchev was reported adamant in his determination to go ahead with the treaty, saying he would sign it at a date "which has already been fixed by myself."

An Italian spokesman said the Soviet leader "began using string terms" when the subject of Berlin came up at the opening talks in the Kremlin. Fanfani replied in equally strong terms, putting forward the Western position.

Khrushchev covered a wide range in his long speech on foreign affairs but offered nothing new toward resolving East-West differences, the spokesman said. The Italians came away from the first 3½-hour meeting showing disappointment and wondering why they were extended an invitation out of the blue to visit Moscow several weeks ago when the Berlin situation began to warm up.

They said Khrushchev apparently gave them the same outline of Soviet policy he laid down for President Kennedy in Vienna last June.

The Italian spokesman said Khrushchev's speech was largely propagandist in tone.

But Fanfani, in a reference to the tense international situation, warned Khrushchev to be careful and not to try curing the world's ills with a surgeon's knife.

An Italian announcement on two days of talks by the two heads of government over a Kremlin conference table said Fanfani, in urging negotiations, made it clear he spoke for all the Western Allies.

"It would be dangerous to believe that the solution of present difficulties can come from unilateral action," the spokesman quoted Fanfani as saying.

Fanfani said Western moves following Khrushchev's announcement that he would sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany should not be mistaken for aggressive intentions.

"Finally, the will to negotiate"

Explain Phone Bills, Colony Head Is Asked

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Legislative Council today called on David Ray, superintendent of the Arkansas Children's Colony at Conway to explain 22 long distance calls he made last November.

Sens. Ellis Pagan of Little Rock and Roy Riales of Mona proposed calling Ray, terming "telephone bills at the colony" "ridiculous."

They said the calls in question were made to Little Rock while the council was considering the Children's Colony budget last Nov. 2-3. They indicated they felt Ray was using the telephone time to get support for the budget.

"If that is not pressure, I'd like to know what it is," Pagan said. Riales criticized the colony's phone bill Tuesday when Ray and other officials appeared before the council to request more than $6 million in construction funds.

Riales said the November bill was $724. Ray said later that this was for two months and that $600 of it was a basic charge for the colony's switchboard.

The senator said today that $300 a month was excessive.

"They must have gill-edges phones sitting beside their beds," Riales said.

Pagan, lashing at colony management in a 10-minute speech, said he was quoted out of context Tuesday when he referred to the colony as a country club.

Pagan said the colony was no country club as far as the unfortunate children were concerned, but he added, "It would be a country club so far as the superintendent is concerned. I think we've been taken for a ride by the colony board."

The controversy was touched off Tuesday by the colony's request for a $1 million item for a treatment center for retarded adults. Such persons now are cared for at the State Hospital.

Pagan said he could never vote for plush appropriations for the colony while "we have unfortunate victims in 80-year-old buildings at the State Hospital."

The State Hospital has asked the council for more than $12 million in construction money.

Education Dept. Asks $2 Million

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Education Department today renewed its bid for a $2 million teacher salary supplement that died with the 1961 omnibus law.

Officials of the Arkansas State Penitentiary followed Education Department leaders before the Legislative Council to ask $369,000 in prison construction funds and city officials then came in with a request for $800,000 in additional turnback funds.

The council is conducting hearings so it can recommend to a forthcoming special legislative session how to spend $1.8 billion in surplus funds. The legislature has the problem of drawing up some kind of construction and spending program to replace Gov. Orval E. Faubus' $74.5 million plan which fell when the Supreme Court invalidated the $14.5 million omnibus law and voters rejected a $60 million bond issue proposal.

Like the teacher salary money, the penitentiary construction and city turnback money was appropriated in the omnibus law.

The Education Department also asked $275,000 for construction of a second vocational technical school the omnibus law appropriated $500,000 and $91,334 to match federal funds for operation of the Vocational Rehabilitation Center at Hot Springs.

The Military Department today asked 350,000 for construction of National Guard armories. The omnibus law appropriated only $300,000 for this purpose.

Officials said $25,000 is needed to finish armories now under construction; $54,000 for new armories; $126,000 for new armories at De Queen, Harrisburg, White, and Larry Vermer. Will City firemen were called to the jams.

Fulbright and Thurmond Dispute Flares

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON (AP)—A dispute between two Southern senators over the role of the military in the education of the public on Communist subversion has flared up in the Senate.

At issue is a confidential memorandum Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., recently sent Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and President Kennedy protesting military sponsorship of public meetings featuring "radical, right-wing speakers."

Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., told the Senate Wednesday the memo was "a clandestine assault on the fundamental foundations of our republic."

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, in irony thanked Thurmond and Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., and Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., who joined the attack on the memo, "for disabusing me of my erroneous impression that the civilian control of the armed services is one which is accepted by all Americans."

Fulbright filed the text of his document in the Senate "to dispel the fears of those who have persuaded themselves that the memorandum contains material which is sinister, subversive or sensational."

He said that on July 21, when excerpts leaked out in the press he received an "ultimatum" from Thurmond "demanding that he be provided with a copy of the memorandum 'within the next hour.'"

"Aside from the fact that I had no copy of the memorandum at the time," Fulbright said, "I was unwilling to open my private files in response to so impertinent a letter."

The Fulbright memo, a copy of which Thurmond himself had obtained from an undisclosed source and filed earlier, is reported to have resulted in a new Defense Department directive placing restrictions on the military's role in meetings in which political issues are discussed.

Thurmond said the implication of the memorandum "goes far beyond a mere attack on our military leaders."

"It constitutes a clandestine assault on the fundamental foundations of our republic," the South Carolina senator declared. "It is a smear campaign, utilizing innuendo based on unsubstantiated allegations."

Thurmond concluded by saying it is imperative the Senate Armed Services Committee "immediately undertake a full-scale investigation of this entire matter."

The memo stated its purpose was to alert the Defense Department to military-sponsored programs with the central theme that "the primary, if not the exclusive danger to this country is internal Communist infiltration."

Fulbright's memo aimed its main fire at "radical right-wing speakers who equate social legislation with socialism, and the latter with Communism."

He added that under the philosophy dominating the meetings much of the administration's domestic legislative program would be "characterized as steps toward Communism."

Trying to Take $5 Million Jet Plane to Cuba

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Hijackers who grabbed control of a jet airliner and terrorized passengers and crew surrendered today at 10:55 a. m. (MST).

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Gunmen attempted to take off in a hijacked Continental Airlines Boeing 707 jet today and officers opened fire on the plane.

A hail of bullets fired by officers punctured tires and forced the huge airliner to roll to a stop. The plane started to taxi from the spot where it had been parked for almost five hours and police at the field opened fire.

Several cars filled with officers followed the plane down the runway. At least seven tires were flattened and the plane rolled to a stop.

Police did not attempt to board the plane, but sought to negotiate.

The airport was ordered closed to all traffic.

All six crew members and four volunteer hostages were reported safe after the attempted takeoff. Gunmen hijacked the $5 million jet in flight between Phoenix and El Paso on the announced intention of flying it to Cuba. However, the airliner landed at El Paso International Airport.

There were conflicting reports as to the number of men involved. Thirty to 40 passengers were freed when women aboard the craft became hysterical.

The jet was flying from San Francisco to Houston via Los Angeles, Phoenix and El Paso. One of the men was described as about 50 years old and the other a youth, about 18.

The gunmen were holding the crew of six and four passengers as hostages.

Reports at the airport said they were seeking to refuel the big liner.

Scores of police, including state and federal, rushed to the airport at the Texas border city.

Baggage carts were shoved in front of the airliner in an effort to block a takeoff.

The Continental plane involved was in Flight 54 and the airliner was due in El Paso at 2:05 a.m. It landed on a ramp a few minutes after the scheduled time.

One passenger, Jerry McCauley, 18, of Sacramento, Calif., said the hijackers pulled guns on the airliner's crew just before it arrived over El Paso.

McCauley said that after the craft landed one of the crewmen told the passengers to remain in their seats for their own good.

McCauley said several women became hysterical and the gunman ordered the ramp down and told the passengers to leave the craft.

McCauley said the gunmen told the passengers that four of them had to remain with the crew as hostages. They called for volunteers.

McCauley said three men volunteered.

Says Tunisia Fight Was Unnecessary

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk are said to consider the 4-day war in Tunisia as something which could have been avoided easily with a little more understanding and flexibility on both sides.

Both Kennedy and Rusk are said to be extremely annoyed by the sudden flareup over the French naval and air base at Bizerte.

They made their feelings clear, it has been learned on good authority, in lengthy talks Wednesday with Tunisian Defense Minister Bahi Ladgham.

U.S. officials were under instruction to withhold information on the conference Wednesday at the White House and the State Department, and Tunisian diplomats were equally reluctant to talk with newsmen after the sessions.

The White House press secretary, Pierre Salinger, indicated, however, that either he or the State Department may have something to report when the talks are concluded.

They resume today as Ladgham, Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba's right-hand man, sees Rusk again.

Kennedy, meanwhile, gets a report from U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson. Stevenson talked over the weekend in Paris with French President Charles de Gaulle and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville. Stevenson conferred privately at the United Nations in New York with Tunisian Delegate Mongi Slim Wednesday.

The United States takes the position that the French-Tunisian clash results in an almost irreparable breach in the Western front at a time when the Western Allies should concentrate on such main points of East-West friction as Berlin.

Officials here reportedly made it clear that while they do not agree with Tunisia's attitude and especially resent Bourguiba's blockade of Bizerte, they are also displeased with France's rigidity. This, they feel, may have pushed Bourguiba, the only pro-Western Arab head of state, into the neutralist camp.

Thinks Allies Can Match Red Armies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Current appraisals in informed Washington circles are that Western forces would be a virtual match for Communist troops in a conventional war.

The feeling here now is that Western allies have far more powerful ground forces in Europe than popularly believed.

Behind this thinking:

1. American and North Atlantic Treaty Organization divisions are larger and have more firepower than the Communists, and outnumber them on the critical central European front.

2. The Allies are believed to have as much tactical air power on the central front as the Communists.

3. The Allied nuclear power exceeds that of the Soviets even though they may be superior in their ability to deliver it via long-range missiles.

This picture is beginning to emerge here in information obtained from Defense Department officials and sources in congress.

Parole Held for Robbery

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A 20-year-old St. Louis man, who was released on parole from the Arkansas Penitentiary Feb. 4, was convicted of a $50 armed robbery Tuesday and sentenced to 15 years in prison as an habitual offender.

Circuit Judge David A. McMullen recommended the circuit attorney sentenced Tony Berger on the recommendation of the circuit attorney's office.

A jury convicted Berger of the Feb. 21 holdup of a tavern. Berger's accomplice, Jack Edwards, 21, of St. Louis, pleaded guilty to a charge of armed robbery and was sentenced to 12 years in the Missouri Penitentiary early last month.

Borger was convicted at Searcy, Ark., in 1959 and was paroled after serving part of a concurrent sentence of five years for burglary and four years for grand larceny.

More Trouble With Space Platform

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The oft-postponed attempt to orbit a satellite "space platform" has encountered more trouble and probably will not be tried again for two weeks.

Scientists had hoped to launch the Atlas-Agena booster rocket today, the final day of an optimum eight-day period which was determined best for placing the payload, Ranger I, on the desired course.

The effort was called off Tuesday night because of technical problems. The next favorable period starts in about two weeks.

The experiment will attempt to place a satellite in orbit and from it launch the Ranger spacecraft deep into space to test techniques for sending future vehicles to the moon and beyond.

Red Action in Berlin Protested

BERLIN (AP) — The Communists imposed new restrictions today on West Germans who work in the Western sectors of this divided city. The United States, Britain and France fired off notes asking the Soviet commandant in Berlin to put an end to all such measures.

The three Western military commandants in the city sent identical letters to Col. Andrei I. Solovoyev, commander of Soviet troops in the city, saying all such measures worsen the atmosphere in Berlin and warning against this.

They said the actions taken against persons crossing the border to work in the West include denial of certain facilities to the children of such workers, special financial penalties and eviction from their homes. Additionally today, West Berlin officials said special identity cards are being issued by Red police to East German residents of nearby East German towns holding jobs in West Berlin. The cards bar the bearers from Berlin.

This will force them to give up their jobs. The Reds earlier gave such restrictive cards only to persons suspected of planning to escape.

The three commandants denounced actions against the commuters as a violation of agreements between the Soviet Union and the West and objectionable on humanitarian grounds.

Information Bureau West, a private West Berlin intelligence agency, reported another Communist pinprick designed to hinder travel into the Berlin area.

It said prices for travel permits used by West Berliners to visit East Germany had been boosted to $1.25 from 75 cents.

The protest note was directed against those and other measures. It was delivered to Col. Andrei I. Solovoyev, the Soviet commandant, and would normally be signed by Maj. Gen. Albert Watson II, his American counterpart.

The British, French and American sectors of Berlin are each under the command of a general. The chairmanship rotates among them from month to month. This month, Gen. Watson is in the chair.

His protest was reported to have the approval of Maj. Gen. Sir Rohan Delacombe of Britain and Maj. Gen. Jean Lacomme of France.

It would also be normal for Sir Rohan Delacombe of Britain and Maj. Gen. Jean Lacomme of France.

It would also be normal for such a protest to be made only on instructions from Washington, London and Paris.

A spokesman for West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt said he had not asked for any action by the commandants.

West Berlin officials reported that the Red police are issuing special identity cards to residents of nearby East German towns with jobs in West Berlin. The cards say the bearer is not allowed to visit the divided city.

West Berlin police reported that commuters bringing East Germans to their West Berlin jobs today were occupied largely by women. They concluded that the men had been hauled off.

About 52,000 persons from the East are registered as workers in West Berlin, but estimates put their number closer to 80,000. The Communists want to put them to work at home because of the severe labor shortage.

Reports of the Red moves coincided with a Communist warning that every East German had better do his best to stop the refugee tide—or else. More than a thousand refugees are streaming into West Berlin daily.

The threat came in an editorial in the official party paper of Red-ruled East Germany, Neues Deutschland.

Red Action in Berlin Protested

BY LOYAL GOULD

BERLIN (AP) — The Communists imposed new restrictions today on West Germans who work in the Western sectors of this divided city. The United States, Britain and France fired off notes asking the Soviet commandant in Berlin to put an end to all such measures.

The three Western military commandants in the city sent identical letters to Col. Andrei I. Solovoyev, commander of Soviet troops in the city, saying all such measures worsen the atmosphere in Berlin and warning against this.

They said the actions taken against persons crossing the border to work in the West include denial of certain facilities to the children of such workers, special financial penalties and eviction from their homes. Additionally today, West Berlin officials said special identity cards are being issued by Red police to East German residents of nearby East German towns holding jobs in West Berlin. The cards bar the bearers from Berlin.

This will force them to give up their jobs. The Reds earlier gave such restrictive cards only to persons suspected of planning to escape.

The three commandants denounced actions against the commuters as a violation of agreements between the Soviet Union and the West and objectionable on humanitarian grounds.

Information Bureau West, a private West Berlin intelligence agency, reported another Communist pinprick designed to hinder travel into the Berlin area.

It said prices for travel permits used by West Berliners to visit East Germany had been boosted to $1.25 from 75 cents.

The protest note was directed against those and other measures. It was delivered to Col. Andrei I. Solovoyev, the Soviet commandant, and would normally be signed by Maj. Gen. Albert Watson II, his American counterpart.

The British, French and American sectors of Berlin are each under the command of a general. The chairmanship rotates among them from month to month. This month, Gen. Watson is in the chair.

His protest was reported to have the approval of Maj. Gen. Sir Rohan Delacombe of Britain and Maj. Gen. Jean Lacomme of France.

It would also be normal for Sir Rohan Delacombe of Britain and Maj. Gen. Jean Lacomme of France.

It would also be normal for such a protest to be made only on instructions from Washington, London and Paris.

A spokesman for West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt said he had not asked for any action by the commandants.

It cited a much-publicized show trial in East Berlin as an example of what happens to East Germans who their fellow countrymen catch.

The trial ended Wednesday with sentencing of five defendants to prison terms ranging from 2 to 15 years on charges of espionage and enticing persons to flee.

SPACE PLATFORM — The Ranger satellite is visible at top of an Atlas booster (its protective covering has been made transparent). In the middle is the Agena B second stage rocket, which will carry the Ranger into a "parking orbit" 115 miles above the earth. From there, the Ranger will be fired into a looping orbit which will take it deep into space and back.

Negro Escapee Recaptured

BLITHEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — James Vernon Fain, 40-year-old Negro wanted at Newport and Morgantown, W. Va., rested in Mississippi County jail today while authorities decided who will prosecute him first.

Fain was captured late Wednesday after a 5-hour manhunt which began when he abandoned a stolen car four miles north of here. A posse of State Police, FBI agents and city and county officers closed in after he was seen taking a coal from a farm house.

Fain escaped jail at Newport, where he was held for theft of some tires, on July 22. He laid low in the Newport area until Tuesday night. The car abandoned near here was stolen in Newport that night.

Authorities at Morgantown said Fain has been wanted since 1958 for abduction rape and flight to avoid prosecution. They said he also is wanted in Pennsylvania.

A resident of Cassville, W. Va., Fain has served three terms in the West Virginia penitentiary for breaking and entering, auto theft and rape according to records in the Monongalia County sheriff's office.

Says Program Is Challenge to U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., says the new Russian development program is a challenge to the United States not to let its own development programs lapse. He said Americans must be skeptical of the Soviet announcement pledging peaceful coexistence but added that the program to supply the vast needs of the Russian people is inconsistent with plans for war.

Air Sample Flights

NAHA, Okinawa (AP) — The U.S. Air Force announced today it will soon start a series of air sampling flights over international waters in the Western Pacific using two U2 planes based on Okinawa.

It said U2s had carried out similar flights from the United States, Argentina and Australia in recent years.

Reports of the Red moves coincided with a Communist warning that every East German had better do his best to stop the refugee tide—or else. More than a thousand refugees are streaming into West Berlin daily.

Two Killed in Highway Wreck

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Mrs. Lillian Garrett, 59, and Miss Sophia Lyle, about 70, were killed Wednesday in a head-on collision of their station wagon and a truck on U.S. Highway 70 about two miles east of here.

State Police said Arthur Rain, 36, of Memphis told them the brakes on his truck locked and the vehicle went out of control and swerved across the highway into the path of the station wagon driven by Mrs. Garrett.

Raines was treated for minor injuries at a hospital here and released.

Reds Change Mind

TOKYO (AP) — The Soviet government opened the Trans-Siberian Railroad to foreign tourists this summer for the first time since World War II. Today the Japan Travel Bureau reported the Russians had closed it again without explanation.

The bureau said it had booked about 50 travelers, including about a dozen Americans, for a nine-day train trip to Moscow this summer.

The firefly converts 95 per cent of its energy into light, wasting a negligible amount in heat. By contrast, the ordinary electric light bulb converts only 3 per cent of its energy into light.

Party Given For Bride-elect

Miss Betty Bryant and Miss Edwina Whitman entertained with a bridge party Tuesday night, August 1 for Miss Judy Kaye Wright, bride-elect of Tim Walter of Abilene, Tex. Shasta daisies and roses decorated the woman home where the party was held.

Miss Wright, wearing a blue sheath, was presented a corsage of pink rosebuds. She also received a gift of china from the hostesses.

At the conclusion of play the highest scorer for the evening was the honoree, Miss Wright. In second place was Miss Caryl Jo Case. A dessert plate was served for refreshments.

Tuesday Bridge Club

Mrs. R. E. Cooper was the guest of a Tuesday Bridge Club which met with Mrs. K. G. Hamilton on August 1. After the two tables of players had enjoyed the afternoon, Mrs. C. C. Lewis was high scorer. The game prize went to Mrs. Dewey Camp. A dessert plate was served.

Tuesday Club

A local Tuesday Bridge Club met with Mrs. E. J. Whitman on August 1. The two tables of club members played in a setting enhanced by arrangements of zinnias, marigolds, and roses. Mrs. R. L. Broach received a prize for her good score. Frosted punch was served for refreshments.

Astronauts Are Very Tight-lipped

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—America's seven astronauts have been ordered to this military medical center. First arrivals were tight-lipped as to purpose and how long they were to stay.

A spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in Washington said the hand-picked crew will spend several days undergoing annual physical checkups at Lackland Air Force Base.

Four of the astronauts, Navy Cmdr. Alan Shepard, Marine Lt. Col. John Glenn Jr., Navy Lt. M. S. Carpenter and Navy Cmdr. Walter Schirra Jr., arrived Tuesday afternoon by commercial jet. Air Force Capt. Virgil (Gus) Grissom flew in from Orlando, Fla. The space agency announced that Air Force Maj. Donald Slayton and Capt. Leroy Cooper also would fly here.

Thinks Movies Too Immoral

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Movies are too immoral and sexy for American youngsters to see, the Arkansas American Legion feels. In a resolution, it condemned and deplored awards to motion pictures depicting "base, lewd and immoral human emotions." It cited seven alleged instances of such portrayals, including the movie "Butterfield 8" for which actress Elizabeth Taylor received an Academy Award.

The resolution was passed last week at the Legion's convention here. It was made public Tuesday.

Turkeys and Fryers on Bargain List

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Turkeys jumped into midsummer popularity among weekend specials offered by supermarkets and neighborhood stores this week.

They are featured by chains in widely scattered cities and are bringing the lowest prices since 1942. Live weight prices in July were down 16 per cent from a year.

Frying chickens and ducks were on the bargain list in some stores. However, beef continued to be the heaviest advertised item among the specials. Prices are low and the supply is heavy. Featured cuts are round, rib and chuck pot roasts and round and rib steaks.

Pork chops are being pushed in some areas. Prices are down 6 to 20 cents a pound from last week.

Fish specials are generally limited to swordfish, smelts and colossal shrimp.

Egg prices down as much as 6 cents a dozen from last week.

The Agriculture Department reported supplies of vegetables for the fresh market, excluding melons, will be somewhat smaller this summer than a year ago due to adverse weather in growing areas. However, unusually heavy supplies have driven down the price of potatoes.

Best vegetables buys are beets, cabbage, cauliflower, celery, Chinese cabbage, corn, cucumbers, lettuce, squash, tomatoes and Eastern potatoes.

Among good buys are beans, carrots, greens, spinach, eggplant, endive, escarole, green onions, radishes, parsley, field peas, peppers, okra and California potatoes.

Best buys among fruits are cantaloupes, watermelons, cherries and lemons.

On the good-buy list are plums, pears, apples, large avocados, blueberries, honeydew melons, mangoes, peaches, grapes, apricots and California oranges.

Anderson Heads the U. S. Navy

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Adm. George W. Anderson Jr., 54, a naval aviator, is the new commander of all U. S. Navy ships at sea and stations ashore.

Anderson took over as chief of naval operations in traditional ceremonies at the U. S. Naval Academy Tuesday.

He succeeds Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, retiring after 42 years in the Navy and an unprecedented three terms as CNO.

Burke, 51, said sea power is the "one constant influence on the affairs of men and nations" in the midst of a changing world. Anderson, elevated to the Navy's top post by President Kennedy, pledged to keep the Navy "on course and steaming strong, regardless of what the future may portend."

DOROTHY DIX

The Road Back Is Hard

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: My husband of 13 years wants a divorce and I am crushed. Admittedly, I'm quick tempered, but so is he. My great fault is impulsively uttering cutting and cruel things regardless of how they may hurt. After our last terrible quarrel my husband went on a tear and wound up in the home of an Alcoholics Anonymous where he now lives. I keep praying he may have a change of heart and come back to me. He once said I was his inspiration. Can it be possible that he has really lost all love for me, as he claims, when I still love him? I've had to call a doctor to give me a sedative. Help!—Desolated Wife.

Dear Desolated: Yours is the tragic story of the wife who lets emotion and not reason, rule. Like most quick-tempered people, you're probably super-sensitive. The sad part is that unless hot-heads—like yourself, learn to control their emotions, they destroy themselves, as well as their victims.

Snap out of it! Do a right about face. Prove to yourself and your husband that you can master your feelings. It won't be easy. The road back is always hard, but you can make it if you find out the cause of your emotional instability. With the majority, it is lack of self-confidence. Achieve a sense of personal accomplishment by learning to do some one thing well—if only keeping house. Once you succeed, you'll keep your temper and your husband!

Dear Helen: I'm in love with the lieutenant at our community pool. He says he likes me—when I'm around. But I play second fiddle to every other girl who comes along, among them my next-door neighbor. He phones sometimes and we always talk about the summer we met. He is 19, I not quite 15, but that doesn't matter. I know he cares for me and every time I date another boy, yet—he's never Miss Griffin is a graduate of Hutchinson High School, Hutchinson Jr. College and Emporia State Teachers College and a member of Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority. She is now employed as secretary at Kansas Power and Light Co. Topeka, Kan.

Lt. Greenlee is a graduate of Hope High school, attended Louisiana Tech, and graduated from Henderson State Teachers College where he was a member of Phi Lambda Chi fraternity. He is now stationed at Ft. Riley, Kan.

The wedding will be an event of September 10 at Trinity Methodist Church, Hutchinson, Kan.

Store Operator Shot, Killed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A liquor store operator shot and killed a man who tried to hold up the store late Wednesday night, police said.

Loren A. Crook, 23, died almost instantly from a .30-caliber bullet wound. Police said Crook ordered a clerk, Bernice J. Tate, to give him cash. The store operator, James E. Ralph, was in an office in the rear of the store. He picked up a rifle and fired at Crook, who fell still clutching some of the money.

Police said Crook was carrying a .22 caliber pistol.

Rusk Going to Paris to Plan Berlin Steps

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk plans to urge Allied foreign ministers in Paris next weekend to work out detailed agreements on precise steps the Western powers would take to meet any specific threat the Soviet Union and East Germany may pose to the security of West Berlin.

Rusk is scheduled to leave for Paris at midnight tonight, following a final meeting with President Kennedy late this afternoon on Berlin crisis planning.

Saturday he will meet with the foreign ministers of Britain, France and West Germany in the first of a series of conferences on the Berlin situation. The sessions will continue through Monday. Rusk plans to meet Tuesday with the North Atlantic Treaty conference and later with U.S. ambassadors in Europe.

The Paris conference, apart from the Berlin situation, may also discuss Far Eastern problems. Rusk was planning to take as one of his advisers John M. Steeves, deputy assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs. Presumably the Central Asian issues taken up at Paris will be those of Laos and South Viet Nam.

The Allied ministers are reported planning to concentrate their Paris discussions on contingency planning—that is, what the West-Britain and German Chancellors Konrad Adenauer.

Castro to Russia

CAIRO (AP)—The newspaper Al Ahran said today Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro will visit the Soviet Union and the United Arab Republic after attending the conference of "uncommitted" nations in Belgrade next month.

While in Russia, Al Ahran said, Castro will receive the Lenin Peace Prize awarded him last April.

The Cuban embassy said it could not confirm the report.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev may apply later this year in line with his announced intention to sign a separate peace treaty with Communist East Germany.

Western leaders do not know exactly what steps he might take or might encourage the East German regime to take once the treaty is signed, but they fear some interruption to Allied traffic across East Germany territory to West Berlin.

The range of possible counter measures is reported to include economic sanctions, such as a clampdown on trade with East Germany; diplomatic action, including protests and military moves which could include the use of force should the Communists forcibly cut off the traffic flow.

Indications are that the foreign ministers also will consider the advisability, and perhaps the time and place, of a Western summit meeting later this year which would bring together President Kennedy, French President Charles de Gaulle, Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Great Britain and German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

FBI Probing Bank Robbery

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Federal Bureau of Investigation agents are aiding Crittenden County authorities in the investigation of burglary of almost $2,000 at a branch bank here.

Burglars who entered the State Bank of Fayette Tuesday night made off with $2,000, most of it in coins, from one section of the vault. Officials said most of the bank's money was in a section of the vault the thieves did not enter.

Deputy Sheriff Gladstone Williams said the burglars forced a window to gain entrance to the building and used an acetylene torch and sledge hammer to open the vault.

Recalls Foy Hammons' Baseball Playing Days

Editor's Note: In the following article Jim Montgomery, Hope native and reporter for the Evening Tribune of San Diego, Calif., pays tribute to the late Coach Foy Hammons and in doing so brings out interesting data about baseball in Hope back in the early 20s.

By Jim Montgomery

Hope and Arkansas remember the late, great Foy Hammons, gentleman and coach, as a successful football mentor whose career had become a legend long before his recent death.

Long before Mr. Hammons became Hope High School coach for the first time (1934), he appeared in Hope during a baseball season. He was part of the opposition in 1923, the last year of the old South Arkansas League. He was manager of the Pine Bluff White Sox.

This semi-pro league was composed of the Hope Storks, the Camden Garsers, the El Dorado Oilers, and Pine Bluff.

Dr. Hugh Henry of Camden was its president. He was a brother of Miss Beryl Henry the widely known high school principal and later superintendent of schools at Hope.

Mr. Hammons, a player-manager with the White Sox, also briefly contacted the Bobcats years before he became their coach.

At the end of the 1926 football season, his first with the Ouachita Baptist College Tigers after his great success with the Pine Bluff High Zebras, he was guest speaker at the Bobcats' football banquet.

Football and football coaching was somewhat de-emphasized at Hope High School in those days, and the coach of an undefeated Ouachita team was perhaps as big a celebrity as the Razorbacks' Frank Broyles is today, although less publicized.

That 1926 Bobcat team had a mediocre 3-2 record, yet placed Jack Robinson, captain and center, on the all-state first team. The all-state had 11 men on the first team, no more. No 22-man staff for offensive and defensive.

The 1926 squad deserved a speaker of Hammons' caliber. It was a far better team than its record. Of its seniors alone, at least five later won letters in university or college football. One, Earl Seacrest, became captain of the Razorbacks in 1931, with Robinson as a teammate.

The Hope Storks who played against Hammons' White Sox included some well known athletes. Named for the Stork brand fertilizer, which the Hope Fertilizer Co. produced, the South Arkansas League entry was not the first Hope team to use the name. Its manager, W. Y. (Young) Foster, Jr., whose family interests included the Stork plant was son of youthful Branch Rickey at the local level.

Outsiders might chuckle over a team being named for a fertilizer, but Storks always seemed more distinctive than Watermelon Growers, an appropriate but awkward name which Hope's teams had in the later 1920s.

Here are some of the Storks of the list is certainly far from complete.

Carey Selph, the Ouachita football immortal, who still had three seasons left with the Tigers and who was Hope's shortstop.

Frank Turbeville, Ouachita's football captain who had one season left. His father later ran a cafe at Hope.

Pat Brazil, first baseman who still was playing football at Louisiana Tech. Ruston.

Day Campbell, 1924 Ouachita football captain, who then was president of Central Baptist College for girls at Conway. Day married Mima Hines, of Hope.

Percy Bell, center, who played football for the El Dorado Oilers, was a catcher and outfielder.

And possibly the old Zebrish Leo, "Sparks and Tons" was a left

Mantle Gets No. 40, Yanks Win a Pair

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

In New York, the Yankees increased their American League lead over Detroit to two and a half games with a 6-5 and 12-5 doubleheader sweep over Kansas City as Mickey Mantle walloped his 40th home run.

In Boston, rookie second baseman Chuck Schilling helped the Red Sox down Los Angeles twice 7-2 and 8-7 with a rally-starting single and a game winning home run.

In Cleveland, Chicago outfielder Jim Landis smacked two homers, the second one setting up an 8-4 White Sox triumph after the Indians had won the opener 3-2. In Detroit, Washington rookie first baseman Bud Zipfel belted his first major league home run to give the Senators an 11-inning 6-2 victory after the Tigers had won the first game, 4-3 in pinch hitter Charlie Maxwell's three-run homer.

A little single hit by Dave Philley in Baltimore, a 41-year-old pinch-hitter batting for Marv Broeding, drove in Jim Busby with the run that gave the Orioles a 4-3 second game triumph after Minnesota had won the first game of the two-night twin bill, 4-2.

In the National League, Cincinnati regained first place from Los Angeles, winning two games from Philadelphia, 4-2 and 3-2, while the Dodgers were being shut out by San Francisco 6-0. St. Louis defeated Pittsburgh 4-2 and Milwaukee beat Chicago 4-2. The Braves and Cubs played an 11-inning 7-7 tie in the second game of their doubleheader, ended by darkness.

The Yankees perfect day was marred by White Ford's failure to record 20 victories. The little left-hander went into the ninth inning of the opener leading 5-3, but pinch hitter Haywood Sullivan hit a two-run homer to tie the score.

Luis Arroyo, brilliant relief pitcher, had to rescue Ford before the inning was over.

The Yankees won in their half of the ninth with the bases full and one out, catcher Joe Pignatano dropped third baseman Wayne Causey's throw of a grounder hit by Bob Cerv. It was the fourth Kansas City error and the Yankees' fifth unearned run.

The Yankees combed four Kansas City pitchers for 17 hits in the finale as Ralph Terry coasted to his seventh victory. Mantle got his homer in the first inning to put him in a tie with Roger Maris at 40 apiece, leaving them 17 games ahead of the pace set by Babe Ruth when the Babe hit his record 60 homers in 1927.

The Tigers were trailing 3-1 when Zipfel, Washington's 22-year-old first baseman recently brought up from Houston, let a throw drop that would have ended the inning. Chico Fernandez followed with a single and Maxwell followed with his three-run homer. Zipfel atoned for his lapse in the 11th inning of the second game when he smacked a home run off Phil Regan to break a 2-2 tie. Washington followed with three more runs to seal the verdict.

Held hitless until the eighth by Baltimore's Chuck Estrada, the Twins erupted for four runs in the ninth of the opener.

Schilling's eighth-inning single drove in the first of five Red Sox runs that secured the Delock's sixth victory in the opener.

Jim Grant pitched a six-hitter for the Storks. He was the only pitcher to pitch a complete game in the league.

It is difficult to guarantee the Storks anything, but they have won something like this: Little Rock took the opener, 8 to 0. Hope won the middle game, 9 to 5. Little Rock won the rubber, 3 to 2.

The games were played at old North Elm Park.

Little Rock won the Southern League championship in the first annual Dixie Series, best to Fort Worth of the Texas League. A Little Rock infielder broke a leg before the series. The majors permitted a Chattanooga player to replace him in the Travelers' lineup.

In 1919 or '20, the Storks won the independent championship of Arkansas by beating Morrilton in both games of a Labor Day doubleheader at Little Rock. The Arkansas Gazette carried the box score, next morning—statewide.

At the time, Hope was a mere town. Usually, a mere line score, or by-linings score, with the batteries and a short lead, were all that the smaller cities could hope for.

About the spring of 1924, Mr. people in Arkansas and elsewhere began to hear of the Joplin team and brought it to Hope for training at Fairgrounds Park. Omaha then in the Western League was one of the teams that came to Hope to play Joplin.

Tom Teland of A-beacon, who had been a mainstay on Stork teams, was with Mr. Foster at Joplin. Teland was a catcher and outfielder. He was a left-handed batter and a right-handed thrower.

Modern sports writers jokingly refer to any big-time coach as a character builder. With men like Hammons, and Teland, it'd be the truth.

LAST NIGHT, APPROXIMATELY 500 PERSONS ATTENDED the Second Annual Beauty Queen Contest at City Park. This contest was held to select "Miss Hope City Park" who will be one of the approximately 20 contestants who will vie for the coveted "Miss Arkansas" title in the Four State Beauty pageant which will be held at City Park on Friday night, August 11, 1961. Other contestants will hail from Texas, Louisiana and Oklahoma.

Wants Action on Redistricting

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The executive committee of the Young Democratic Clubs has urged YDC members to press for enactment of a new congressional redistricting plan by the state legislature.

A resolution made public Wednesday opposed having congressional candidates running at-large in the 1962 general election. A redistricting plan approved by the 1961 legislature has been referred to a popular vote at the 1962 general election, with the result that congressional candidates are running at-large instead of by district.

and outfielder Willie Kirkland hit his 21st home run in Cleveland's opening victory over the White Sox. Landis drove in three runs with a single and his second home run of the night to lead the White Sox to their split.

When to Fish or Hunt

Solunar Tables

By John Alden Knight

The schedule of Solunar periods as printed below, has been taken from John Alden Knight's Solunar Tables. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times, if you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

The Major periods are shown in bold face type. These begin at the time shown and last for an hour and a half or two hours there after. The minor periods, shown in regular type, are of somewhat shorter duration.

Can Expect World Unrest All Your Life

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—You can expect world turmoil for the rest of your life. Not big war, maybe, but endless conflict, struggle, revolution around the globe.

It's all spelled out calmly in the Russian Communist party's program for the next 20 years, and beyond.

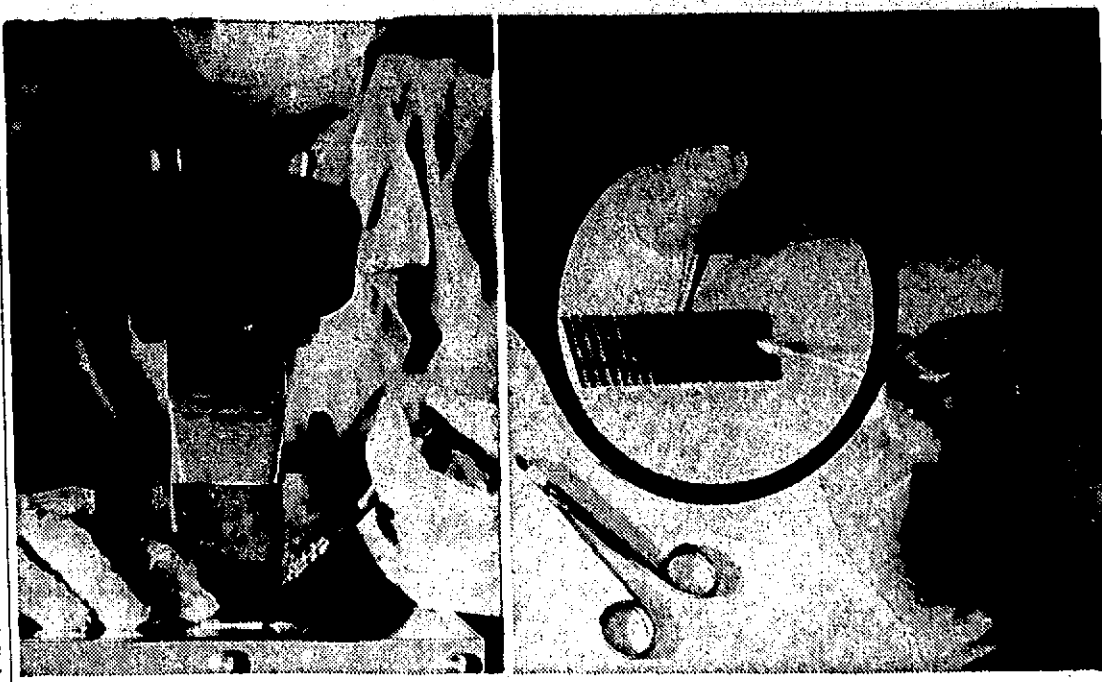

This program, the first laid down in Moscow since 1919, was released Saturday. It fills 64 columns of print in the New York Times.

When Hitler wrote "Mein Kampf"—his blueprint for the wild savagery of Nazism later—unfortunately no one took it seriously.

It looked like the work of a neurotic, and it was.

No doubt many men had a hand in the new Russian Communist party program which has the blessing of Premier Khrushchev.

No one is calling this neurotic. It is frankly and confidently Moscow's blueprint for world conquest by communism. This must be taken as seriously as Mein Kampf should have been. It is divided into two main parts. One is a catalogue of rosy promises of a richer and easier life for the Russian people in the next 20 years. It was this part of the program

Science in A Study of Many Things

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Insect allergy, hazards in partially smoked cigarettes, and safe new sedatives are items in the medical news:

Insect Dust
Bits and pieces of common insects floating in the air are an important cause of hay fever and asthma, says an allergy specialist.

House flies, May flies, aphids, beetles, mites and other creatures contribute to the dust which humans inhale.

Some people are allergic only to the insect dust, while others get their troubles from a combination of the dust, molds, and pollen. The insect allergy is more common in Southern than in Northern states.

Many victims can be desensitized with anti-allergy shots. Dr. Samuel M. Feinberg of Northwestern University writes in Consultant magazine.

Relighters
The habit of relighting half-consumed cigarettes may double a smoker's chances of getting lung cancer, say three British physicians.

They checked on 700 patients in Manchester hospitals. Among persons smoking 10 to 19 cigarettes daily, there were twice as many cases of lung tumors among those who relit cigarettes. The same held true for persons smoking 20 to 29 cigarettes daily, but differences were less clear among those smoking 30 or more. Drs. John Dark, M. Pemberton and Marjorie Russell write in The Lancet.

"If relighting is a factor in lung cancer, it might go part way to explain the much greater incidence of the disease in Britain than in the United States where since cigarettes are cheaper, there may be less temptation to relight half-smoked 'dumps' or partially consumed cigarettes," they said.

Safe Sedatives
Barbiturates are estimated to account for 800 to 900 suicides a year.

But now researchers tell of two new sedatives which they claim induce sleep but are safe regardless of overdosage. One is a synthetic developed in Germany, the other a barbiturate combined with a restorative which takes over if the person takes too many pills, says World Medical News.

Radiation Warner Is Developed

By FRANK CAREY

BLACKSBURG, Va. (AP)—A University of California scientist today reported development of the first promising warning device against the worst radiation hazard to manned space flight. Dr. Kinsey Anderson said a technique for spotting unusually large shadows around sunspots offers a means of forecasting likely periods when the sun would emit radioactive bullets that make the much-publicized Van Allen radiation belts "look sissified" as a hazard to spacemen. He said methods have been worked out for predicting such outbursts with good to moderate accuracy four to seven days in advance. He added that this could well affect the timing of manned orbital shots around the earth and a circumnavigation trip around the moon which would precede an attempt to land men on the moon by 1970.

Anderson told about it in an interview after addressing a conference of space scientists jointly sponsored by Virginia Polytechnic Institute, the National Science Foundation and the Langley (Va.) Research Center of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Dr. Anderson said the civilian space agency had asked him to try to work out some means of flares might make cosmic rays, so that manned launchings could be timed to avoid them. "Only about 20 per cent of the biggest flares produce cosmic rays," he said. "Big flares range from about 50 a year during the maximum period of sunspot activity every 11 years to none at all during years of minimum sunspot activity."

He said a given flare from the sun could generate many trillions of proton particles that could endanger men aboard an unshielded space ship.

Rockets designed for lofting a lunar landing expedition and for more advanced space shots, he said, would be hefty enough to allow proper shielding of the manned capsules.

New SS Chief at White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gerald A. Behn will be the new chief of the White House Secret Service detail, in charge of protecting President Kennedy and his family.

The White House announced today that Behn will succeed James J. Rowley who, in turn, will become chief of the entire U.S. Secret Service upon the retirement of the present head, U. E. Baughman at the end of this month.

Behn is 45 and a Secret Service veteran. He joined the service in 1939, the same year he got a degree from Michigan State University where he majored in police administration. He was assigned to the White House detail in 1941 and promoted in 1946 to the leadership of one of the three shifts that rotate around the clock in guarding the chief executive.

Kennedy announced Behn's appointment after consultation with Rowley.

which got most attention when it was made public over the weekend.

The other, predicting the ultimate triumph of communism without a timetable, is the blueprint for the long, fierce, unending struggle ahead.

Reading the full text in this part of the program makes the idea of "peaceful coexistence," which Khrushchev preaches, look like an exercise in the Communist lexicon of double-speak.

It says quite blandly that peaceful coexistence between communism and capitalism is not only possible but desirable. After all, it explains, this just gives communism more time to take over.

It says, for instance: "Communists have never held that the road to revolution lies necessarily through wars between countries. The great objective of the working class can be realized without war."

The real chiller is Moscow's idea of what should be happening through that long twilight period of peaceful coexistence—that everywhere Communists should be trying to take over whatever country they're in.

The means may vary but the central theme is revolution. The revolution may not necessarily be violent, it, for example, Communists could get elected in enough numbers to control a parliament and thus take over government.

The program sounds a little skeptical that Communists are going to conquer many places without violent revolution. It says: "Leninism maintains, and historical experience confirms, that the ruling classes do not yield power of their own free will."

That's the polite way of saying you'll have to fight for it, boys.

The program emphasizes that one country after another should be knocked off from within—to avoid war—although the exact method will vary from country to country, depending on how much and what kind of opposition there is.

This advice is given:

"The success of the struggle which the working class wages for the victory of the revolution will depend on how well the working class and its party master the use of all forms of struggle—peaceful and non-peaceful, parliamentary and extra-parliamentary—and how well they are prepared to replace one form of struggle by another as quickly and unexpectedly as possible."

"The Russians are too practical to assume that Communists outside Russia will have enough sense to do things right by themselves."

So the program reassures them: "The Communist party of the Soviet Union will continue to strengthen the unity and cohesion of the ranks of the great army of communists of all countries." Boiled down to one sentence this means for unnumbered years ahead Communists everywhere around the world, with Russian help, will be trying to knock off one country after another, hoping all eventually will fall under the Red banner.

John Payne in Remarkable Recovery

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—On March 1, John Payne started across a New York street to visit the apartment of friends.

Seconds later, he was lying on the pavement, his face slashed, his eyes filled with glass, his skull dented and his left leg broken in five places.

Today his handsome face seems unchanged except for a straight scar across his chin. He still wears a steel brace to support his mending leg.

Payne's comeback is a tribute to surgeons' skill and his own will to survive. His injuries and the loss of blood—"I left about three quarts on the pavement"—placed him on the critical list. "The actor never saw the car that hit him. It was driven by a 21-year-old research analyst who said he didn't see Payne in the twilight rain."

"I knew when I became conscious on the street that I was hurt, but I didn't know how badly," Payne recalled.

He summoned the friends he was to visit and had them call his wife Sandy in California so the news would be broken gently. Then he sought the best medical care possible.

"I got it," he said. "There were six doctors working on me—a team of three on the leg, two on the face and one on the head."

I wondered if he felt concern about his face, since it is an actor's meal ticket.

"At a time like that, you only think about survival," he replied. "After that, my principal concern was my children." He has a daughter by his marriage to Anne Shirley, a son and daughter by his marriage to Gloria DeHaven.

Payne had to remain in a chest-high cast until two weeks ago. Then he was given the brace that makes him more maneuverable. He exercises daily in the pool of his Malibu home to build up the atrophied muscles. What has the whole experience taught him?

"That there's no reason to be in a hurry in this life," he said. "I've been in Hollywood 24 years. During that time I've seen a lot of young guys come up fast. After a couple of years, you start wondering what ever happened to them. They burn themselves out."

"Me, I'm taking my time. I've been able to catch up on my reading. I'm studying typing—up to 30 words a minute. I'm even learning to play the accordion. I'm in no hurry to go back to work."

Nobody Calls Russian Part East Germany

By JOHN BAUSMAN

BERLIN (AP)—The country known abroad as East Germany has a variety of names. But no German calls it East Germany.

East Germany's Communists call their country the German Democratic Republic — or GDR. Or Democratic Germany. They regard it as an independent German state, worthy of recognition as such.

West Germans still refer to it as the Soviet zone of occupation. Or they call it just "the zone." They regard its government as a Soviet puppet regime forced upon the people and not worthy of recognition. In fact they feel it is so unworthy of recognition that the west German government breaks off relations with any country except the Soviet Union that extends official recognition to East Germany.

There is another West German term for East Germany — "Middle Germany." This is based on the theory that beyond "Middle Germany" lies an East Germany made up of those eastern parts of prewar Germany now assigned to Poland and the Soviet Union.

Whatever you call it, East Germany is the smaller segment of divided Germany. With an area of 41,700 square miles, it is less than a third the size of West Germany's 143,280 square miles. Its 17 million population compares with 52 million for West Germany.

The country's boundaries—from the Baltic Sea on the north to Czechoslovakia on the south, from the Oder-Neisse border with Poland on the east to the Iron Curtain border with West Germany—were drawn at the allied conference at Potsdam in 1945, right after World War II. At that time East Germany was set up as the Soviet zone of occupation.

The Soviet occupiers ruled with a strong hand. They dismantled factories and tore up railroad track as reparations to be shipped off to the Soviet Union.

Early local elections in the Soviet zone showed the majority of voters opposed to the Communist-run Socialist Unity party. But with Soviet backing, the party gained control of the zone's political life and became its governing party when the German Democratic Republic was proclaimed on Oct. 7, 1949.

This was the Soviet answer to the establishment of the Federal Republic of (West) Germany by France, the United States and Great Britain a month earlier.

By that time the break between the Soviet Union and its war allies was fully recognized. Efforts to cooperate in Berlin had long since collapsed and the city had separate governments for the East and West sectors. There had also been the allied airlift, lasting nearly a year, to break the Soviet blockade of Berlin and foil that first attempt to force the allies out of the city.

East Germany, impoverished by stern mobilization demands, was now called on to build itself up as a flourishing Soviet satellite. A heavy industrialization program left little production for consumers. Farms were collective and private firms and tradesmen were squeezed. For four years the East Germans submitted to their fate except for nearly

Premier of Unified Congo Approved

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The Congolese Parliament today approved Cyrille Adoula as premier of a unified Congo government, reliable sources reported. They said leftist leader Antoine Gizenga was elected as one of three vice premiers.

The vote of confidence in the new government was unanimous in the Senate, and in the Chamber of Deputies there were only two abstentions.

Justin Bomboko, foreign minister in the Congo ever since independence, retains his post. Christophe Gbenye of Gizenga's Stanleyville regime is interior minister and former Premier Joseph Iléo is minister of information, informants said.

Negro Freed in Fatal Shooting

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Robert Lee McFee, 20, a Negro, was freed from Pulaski County Jail Tuesday after being held six days on an open charge in connection with the fatal shooting of his 19-year-old wife.

Prosecutor John T. Jernigan said an investigation substantiated said an investigation substantiated McFee's statement that the shooting of Willie Lee McFee was accidental.

Physician Dies at Fayetteville

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Dr. Ralph E. Weddington, 54, Washington County Medical director, died today at his home. He apparently suffered a heart attack.

He had lived in Fayetteville since World War II and had been county medical director since February.

A native of Hannibal, Mo., he served as Independence County medical director and was with a clinic in Fort Smith before moving to Fayetteville after wartime service.

200,000 who escaped to the West each year.

Then on June 16, 1953, building workers in East Berlin demonstrated against heavy work requirements and poor food supplies.

The next day, June 17, popular uprisings broke out in East Berlin and other major cities. The people demanded free elections, food and an end to tyranny. The Soviets proclaimed martial law and brought in tanks and troops to stop the rioting. Leaders of the uprising were arrested and executed.

The June 17 revolt was short-lived and brutally suppressed. It got no support from the West. No other has broken out so far.

But the continued stream of refugees, totaling more than 2.5 million since 1949, has been a constant reminder of the regime's unpopularity.

Can a regime, clearly unpopular with a large part of its population, count on these forces in a showdown with the West?

Western experts find this hard to assess. Certainly there would be some substantial defections, especially if the people were to defy the Communists openly.

Next: The Refugees.

Astronauts Are Taking Physicals

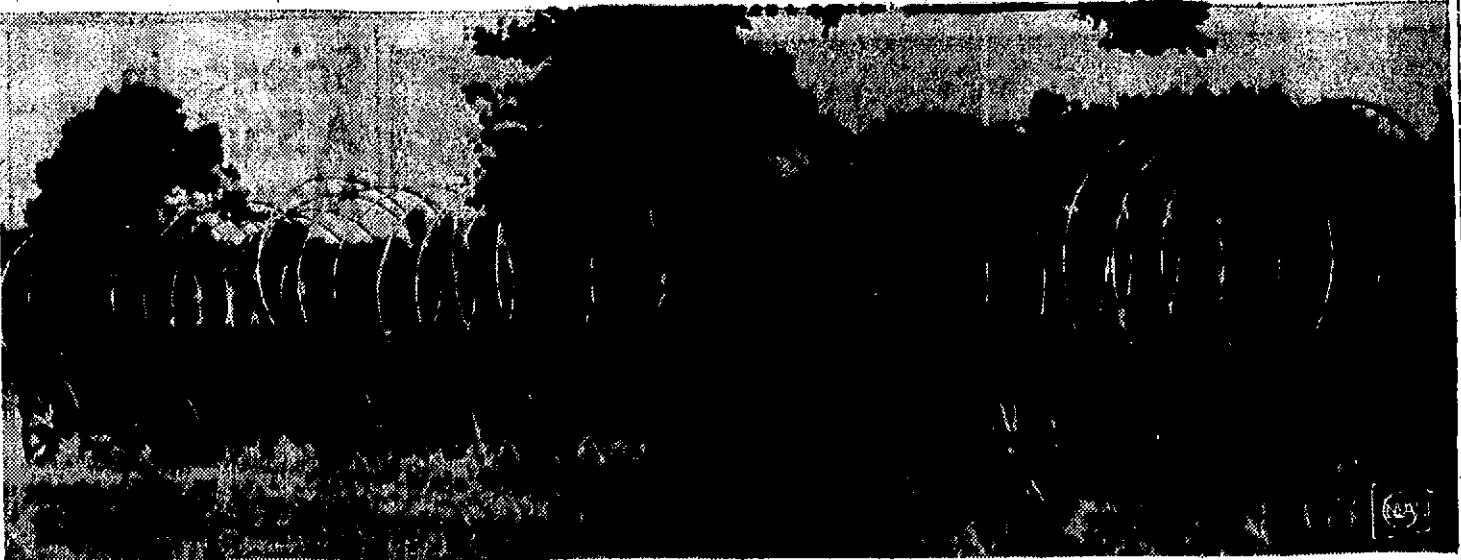

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—America's seven astronauts began a 2½-day series of what the federal space agency called routine physicals today at Lackland Air Force Base Hospital.

Their personal flight surgeon, Dr. William O. Douglas of Langley AFB, Va., pronounced them "in excellent condition" at the start of the tests.

Douglas will undergo the same physical checkup so as to evaluate the results more effectively, a spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said.

Newsmen were not allowed to talk to the astronauts today and no photographs were permitted inside the hospital.

The NASA spokesman, John Peterson, said results of the ex-

Unrest Seen Between Russia, China

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The proposed Soviet Communist party program just published in Moscow is seen by authorities here as a possible new source of irritation and dispute between the Soviet Union and Red China.

Authorities who have studied the voluminous document say that its emphasis on a need for avoiding war and for Premier Khrushchev's policy of "peaceful coexistence" is sharply at variance with the more aggressive policy of the Communist Chinese leaders.

Furthermore, in the view of Washington authorities, the program sets up 20-year goals for the Soviet Communist system which the Soviets may at least dream of achieving but the Chinese Reds with their more backward and underdeveloped country have no hope of realizing in such a relatively short period.

The statement of Soviet Communist aims and doctrine, the first such massive doctrinal work in more than 40 years, was published in Moscow Sunday.

Several conclusions have been reached by some of the best-informed experts:

1. There is nothing fundamentally new or startling in the composition which some experts are beginning to refer to as the "Khrushchev doctrine" and others as a "pie-in-the-sky" statement of future hopes.

GANDY DANCERS' DELIGHT—No more pumping those old railroad handcars or even braving the weather on the later motorized track cars. Now track maintenance men use closed-cab trucks capable of traveling either on rails or highways. Erie-Lackawanna Railroad is pioneering use of the new vehicle.

2. The main thrust of action insofar as foreign affairs are concerned is toward the underdeveloped countries of the world. The program draft makes "fraternal association" with such nations a cornerstone of Soviet foreign policy.

3. The goals which are set up for Communist achievement 20 years from now—including such things as rent-free housing, free education and child care supplied by the state—can only be achieved if there is no great war which diverts the resources of the Soviet Union on a huge scale to military purposes.

4. The avoidance of a thermonuclear conflict is described in the document as the first necessity of foreign relations and the document seems to reflect some confidence that peace may in fact be preserved.

5. The central policy theme set forth is that of "peaceful coexistence" but this does not mean any lessening of the "ideological struggle." The Communists are instructed to push their cause in every country but by means short of major war.

6. The document appears to reflect confidence that the triumph of communism over the world is inevitable.

Throughout the program the Soviet Union is presented as the leader and ideal model for all other Communist countries. Communists faithful to Moscow leadership are admonished to avoid the "dogmatism" of Red China and the "revisionism" of Yugoslavia.

Never Time To Retire for a Mother

By MAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—There is a great industry being built up that says you can't be happy if you retire after 65.

There is a great industry being built up that says it isn't worthwhile to retire at all. It is better to go on as before.

Well, this just may or may not happen to be true.

So far as I know, there is no medical evidence that proves any human being who keeps his enthusiasm for living and new or old enjoyments dies younger by quitting a steady job at 65 rather than 65.

What is true is that in most circumstances no doctor can assay your endurance.

Unless you have a known terminal disease an honest physician would have to admit, as any honest physician did 3,000 years ago, that your longevity would have to be as much a mystery to you as his is to him.

It has been my observation that people who have performed an endeavor ably for a long period of time, if they weary of it, survive longer if they relinquish it rather than if they try to continue their clutch of it.

They must find a different reach. There comes a time when they must let go of what they have held, and grasp another thing.

Chance is a tremendous medicine at any age.

There are those who say that age cannot stand a change of medicine or survive a new viewpoint.

My observation has been that the elderly can well sustain any change except a change of weight.

Those who retire early do not perish from nonperformance. Their appetite endures, they refresh themselves by new attempts.

Science has its purposes, but it also has its frustrations.

I recall the sad face of a pioneer doctor in the field of gerontology—the study of old age. He worried himself to death in his 60s, I must suppose, in an attempt to figure how people could live longer.

My mother, who got only through the third grade in Ireland before she came over here and bore five children, never had time to study gerontology. She'll be 74 this year.

"Sometimes I feel like I ought to let go, and give this old world a rest," she says placidly. She is 60-70 pounds above her arrival weight, and America has been for her just one child and a calorie after another.

All her five children—the silver cord remains untarnished and unbroken—deny her this choice. They all feel the need of her unity, now as when young.

"But sometimes I get so tired," mother says. "I'd like to retire. I'd just like to quit."

Talk, woman talk.

There are plenty of statistics to show—I hope—that men who retire younger live longer than those who don't. It's good for them.

But not for mothers. Mothers can't retire. They can't quit, can they. A mother's best pension is the reward of the need of her eternal presentment.

Rehabilitation Grant

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—A $75,000 federal grant has been made to the Arkansas Rehabilitation Service to help provide job training for persons with severe physical handicaps. Arkansas was one of six states chosen for the pilot projects. Don Russell, director of the state rehabilitation agency, said Tuesday in disclosing the grant.

Tunisians Fire on French Planes

TUNIS (AP)—Antiaircraft guns fired on French planes that violated Tunisian air space near the Algerian frontier, the government said today.

Tunisian officials did not say when the incident occurred but listed it among 50 air space violations they said had been counted the past two days.

French air force sources at Bizerte base confirmed to newsmen that some air reconnaissance is being maintained.

"We cannot afford to be caught unprepared," one officer said.

The general feeling in the Tunisian capital was that for the time being Tunisia preferred to settle its crisis with France diplomatically rather than by the use of arms.

A cease-fire ordered by the United Nations 10 days ago left both sides facing each other across sandbag gun emplacements in the city of Bizerte.

New Minister in the Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—President Joseph Kasavubu today named Interior Minister Cyrille Adoula to form a new Congolese government.

Adoula's next step will be to present his government for approval by the Congolese Parliament, meeting at Lovanium University outside Leopoldville.

Adoula, an independent pro-Western moderate, replaces Joseph Ileo, who has been the Congo's premier since February.

22 Soldiers Killed

LISBON, Portugal (AP)—The Portuguese government says 22 soldiers were killed in action and six were killed accidentally in operations during July against African rebels in northern Angola.

The number of wounded was not given nor was there any estimate of African casualties.

THE LIVING (ROOM) END—Lana Green's hat has everything including the kitchen sink. The creation was worn at a San Francisco, Calif., home furnishings show to promote sales of new lines of merchandise.

Looking Back on the Good Old Times

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Let's have another look back at the calmer times when people could go to sleep without worrying over whether the next morning they'd have to face a fresh world crisis. Sometimes it's a blessing to have these days to recall. It's a compensation for growing older. So, count yourself among the lucky ones if you can still remember when—

Anybody who bought a $10,000 house was considered well-to-do. If you got a $50 weekly salary, that was the amount they put in your pay envelope. There were no such things as deductions.

When you went to the store for a gallon of coal oil, the grocer always stuck a raw potato on the spout to keep the can from leaking.

Babe Ruth earned almost as much for knocking 60 home runs in a year as many 16-year-old kids now get for signing as bonus players.

If you gave a child a penny, he didn't look up and ask, "What's it good for?"

It was regarded as a national disaster when movie stars Doug Fairbanks and Mary Pickford got a divorce.

You stepped on a running board before entering an automobile, and there was no such thing as a gasoline tax.

Ministers denounced the rumble seat as the greatest threat to the morals of the younger generation.

You could impress the neighbors with a $200 funeral.

A fountain pen was advertised as a lifetime investment.

The most popular indoor hobby in America was making home brew in the basement.

A draft was a breeze that seeped through a window—not an order issued from Washington.

A good pool player had a wider circle of admirers than a fellow who beat part on a golf course, and any man over 20 who still played tennis was put down as a sissy.

A wife was judged by the skill with which she could darn her husband's socks.

There was only one wonder drug—Aspirin—and nobody had heard of a virus.

If you were sick, the doctor came to see you; you didn't have to go see him.

Only mothers and old folks used rocking chairs.

Teen-agers took orders instead of giving them—and usually asked permission before using the telephone.

The best way to have security in your old age was to raise a family of 10 kids.

Remember?

The surfaces of planes flying at twice the speed of sound will heat to 300 degrees Fahrenheit even in the fairly thin atmosphere at 30,000 feet.

FARM SAFETY CALENDAR

HAZARDS + PEOPLE = ACCIDENTS

SUNDAY: Don't overcrowd your schedule. Many farm folk are killed off the farm. Hurrying invites accidents.

MONDAY: Practice safety at home. Keep your farm and home in order. Eliminate those hazards as you find them.

TUESDAY: Use agricultural chemicals carefully. Read, and heed, labels. Store safely. Keep them away from children.

WEDNESDAY: Prevent falls. Watch your step on floors, rugs. Have stairs well lighted, guarded. Plan. Don't hurry.

THURSDAY: Drive safely. A large portion of off-farm deaths occur on highways. Walk safely. Carry light at night.

FRIDAY: Follow safety rules with farm machinery. Keep equipment in tiptop shape. Shut off before repairing.

SATURDAY: Play safely. Build safety into vacation plans. Be especially careful around water. Take no chances.

SUSPENSETTE

A Short Short Story

SANDRA'S OWN TRUE TALE

By LESTER ARNO

The maid arranged the materials on Sandra Emaron's writing table. Yellow paper, ruled and plain; freshly sharpened pencils and ballpoint pens; water carafe and glasses. All the tools of the author were at hand.

Sandra Emaron, star of motion pictures, television and the theater, seated herself and prepared to plunge into Chapter One of her own, true story.

"Well, Elmer dear, shall we begin?"

Elmer Earnest adjusted his hornrimmed glasses, cleared his throat, opened his briefcase and took out several pages of manuscript.

"Do you wish me to read or will you read it yourself, Miss Emaron?"

"Call me 'Sandy' and do read to me," Sandra lit a cigarette and made herself comfortable by crossing her shapely legs.

"This is just a rough draft, Miss—er, Sandy."

Sandra laughed. "Honey if it's my life, it's bound to be rough. And not just a little."

Elmer smiled what he thought was the right kind of appreciative smile.

"My first memory," he began, "is of my mother. Dear, sweet, self-sacrificing Mom. She was a dressmaker. We lived in one room in an old brownstone house after my father had deserted us. It was not a pretty life."

Sandra nodded her head in assent. "You can say that again, Sonny. It sure wasn't pretty. Matter of fact, it was plain downright ugly. Mom not only took in dress making. She took in other things. But go on."

Elmer continued. "I tried to be helpful. I picked up pins and scraps of material from the floor. A dressmaker's floor is never really free of her materials."

"It sure ain't. And besides, Mom was kind of a slob. What else did I do?" Sandra asked.

"Sometimes there was a little piece of pretty material left over from some fine lady's dress that Mom was making. She would give it to me and I would try to make a little dress for my doll. I was too small to really be able to sew, and dear, patient Mom would take the scrap and make of it a beautiful doll dress."

"Now, that's sweet," Sandra commented. "It's almost like it really happened. I don't suppose you could put in there how I stabbed one of Mom's boyfriends in the leg when he tried to pick me up and put me on his lap?"

Elmer pretended he didn't hear the question.

"I was always playacting," he continued. "The dress maker's dummy that Mother used was in turn a gallant knight, a dashing nobleman or a royal king. The full length mirror was an excellent backdrop for the many roles I took. Mother encouraged me in everything I have ever tried to do."

"True, Elmer," said Sandra. "Mom has been right behind me in everything—everything that paid off. From the day I first amateur contest, right through the days I was in dance marathons, Mom was always right behind me to collect the check."

The telephone rang. Sandra picked up the receiver.

Elmer Earnest put the manuscript aside and lit a cigarette while he listened to the conversation.

"Oh, hello, Lawrence darling!" She covered the mouthpiece and whispered to Elmer. "It's my new beau. Be a dear and go into the bar and pour yourself a beer."

"Oh, Larry, how I wish you were here. I want to share this all with you. The wonderful memories of my happy childhood... the dear thoughts of my sweet mother... the happy steps to ward stardom."

Sandra lit another cigarette as she went on.

"But I thought you knew, my dear. I'm writing my memoirs. Yes, dear. First in a magazine, serially, then in a book. And Larry darling, you just don't know the joy of writing. Of really creating!"

Spending Has Market Out of Hesitation

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—When the stock market closed Tuesday, July 25, the Dow Jones price index of 30 leading industrial stocks stood at 696.37.

That night President Kennedy told the nation he proposed to step up defense spending sharply and increase the size of the armed forces.

When the market closed Tuesday, Aug. 1, the index stood at 713.94, a record high.

Congress had been quick to start legislative moves to put the President's plans in motion. Stock traders had been even quicker to put their own evaluation on what lies ahead for business.

This doesn't mean that prices necessarily will advance steadily, nor that stock traders may have second thoughts now and then. The President's move, however, was just what the market needed to move it out of a period of hesitation.

For business, as distinguished from the stock market, the new arms buildup merely adds momentum to a move already under way. Even before the President spoke, business fully expected steadily increasing activity in the months ahead.

And the extra government spending will come at a time when industry is particularly ready and able both to meet the demands to be put upon it and to profit from the government's action.

Many industries have idle capacity. This means that any increase in demand can be easily handled. Also, the nation's stubborn total of unemployment means that the manpower, except for some specialized skills, is available.

For stockholders the prospects are even brighter. Profits already have started to rise from their recession setback. As sales rise, profits should rise at an even faster pace. That's what stock traders are looking for.

A call of reserves and militia could hurt some companies if they lost key men. But here too the growing labor force and the large number of jobless mean business can adjust more easily than if the Berlin crisis had come during boom times and a labor shortage.

Most firms have their inventories in good shape. Excess stocks have been used up. Supplies are available if business spurts.

Companions with overseas connections also see more opportunities in the offing, now that the threat of a possible trade war between two rival European blocs seems dim.

The move of England, Denmark, Norway and Ireland to seek close ties with the Common Market nations—France, West Germany, Italy, the Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg—forecasts further growth in the already booming European economy. That can mean more demand for American industrial materials and perhaps for American consumers goods to be sold to more prosperous Europeans.

All this is why the stock market has taken on a rosy glow. But Wall Street is a place of quickly changing moods. And the cautious will remember that. In today's world there are many probabilities but few iron clad certainties.

Theodore Roosevelt was the first U. S. president ever to ride in an automobile when he went for a spin at Hartford, Conn., in 1902.

the question.

"I was always playacting," he continued. "The dress maker's dummy that Mother used was in turn a gallant knight, a dashing nobleman or a royal king. The full length mirror was an excellent backdrop for the many roles I took. Mother encouraged me in everything I have ever tried to do."

"True, Elmer," said Sandra. "Mom has been right behind me in everything—everything that paid off. From the day I first amateur contest, right through the days I was in dance marathons, Mom was always right behind me to collect the check."
